More Than You Can Handle Aug 04 2022 The personally harrowing and medically enthralling story of a family's struggle to save a child from a deadly immune deficiency. A journey through the deepest valleys and highest peaks of parenting. When a two-month-old baby falls ill, his apparently ordinary symptoms turn out to signal a rare and lethal immune deficiency. For parents Miguel Sancho and Felicia Morton, the discovery that their son, Sebastian, has chronic granulomatous disease (CGD) upends their lives and leaves the family with few options, all of them terrifying. With Sebastian at constant risk of deadly infection, they spend the next six years in some degree of self-quarantine, with all its attendant anxieties and stressors, as they struggle to keep their son alive, their marriage intact, and themselves sane. The quest for a cure leads them into the alternate universe of the rare-disease community, and to the cutting edge of modern medicine, as their personal crises send them fumbling through various modalities of self-help, including faith, therapy, and meditation. With brutal honesty, Sancho describes how his struggles derail his career, put his marriage on life support, get his family evicted from a Ronald McDonald House, and ruin a Make-A-Wish trip. Sancho's riveting tale of the diagnosis and treatment of his son's illness takes us deep inside the workings of the immune system, and into the radically innovative treatment used to repair it. Ultimately Sebastian is saved with a stem cell transplant using discarded umbilical cord blood, a groundbreaking technique pioneered and practiced by the medical wizards at Duke University Hospital. Deeply researched and darkly humorous, this is a wrenching tale with a triumphant ending.

Representing Australian Aboriginal Music and Dance 1930-1970

Oct 26 2021 Shortlisted for the 2021 Prime Minister's Literary Award for Australian History. Representing Australian Aboriginal Music and Dance 1930-1970 offers a rethinking of recent Australian music history.

Amanda Harris presents accounts of Aboriginal music and dance by Aboriginal performers on public stages. Harris also historicizes the practices of non-Indigenous art music composers evoking Aboriginal music in their works, placing this in the context of emerging cultural institutions and policy frameworks. Centralizing auditory worlds and audio-visual evidence, Harris shows the direct relationship between the limits on Aboriginal people's mobility and non-Indigenous representations of Aboriginal culture. This book seeks to listen to Aboriginal accounts of disruption and continuation of Aboriginal cultural practices and features contributions from Aboriginal scholars Shannon Foster, Tiriki Onus and Nardi Simpson as personal interpretations of their family and community histories. Contextualizing recent music and dance practices in broader histories of policy, settler colonial structures, and postcolonizing efforts, the book offers a new lens on the development of Australian musical cultures.

Einstein, Freud und Sgt. Pepper Jan 05 2020 Alles hat sich geändert, als der Zeiger des Weltalters von 19 auf 20 sprang. Auf fast allen Gebieten wurden im 20. Jahrhundert Entdeckungen gemacht oder Ideen entwickelt, die unser Bild vom Universum und von uns selbst auf den Kopf gestellt haben. Alles schien neu, nichts unmöglich: Maschinen, die denken, Hunde im Weltall und Menschen auf dem Mond. Alte Gewissheiten büßten ihre Geltung ein, hergebrachte Autoritäten verloren ihre Macht. Die Welt wollte kein Zentrum mehr kennen. Auf ganz eigene Weise führt John Higgs durch dieses Jahrhundert der Genies und Gurus. Er erläutert die Relativitätstheorie anhand eines fallenden Würstchens, erzählt von Satanisten im Raumfahrtprogramm der Amerikaner und geht der Frage nach, ob ein Schmetterling in Brasilien einen Tornado in Texas auslösen kann. Das ist alles unglaublich seltsam und ziemlich wahnsinnig. Ein Buch wie ein Trip.
