God Made Me in His Image Sep 23 2021 Bodies can be confusing and sometimes embarrassing to children. But with this simply told, beautifully illustrated children's book by Justin and Lindsey Holcomb, parents can teach kids the truth about how God made their bodies in his image and the human body is good. One day, a group of students and their teacher travel to a zoo safari park to learn all about the different animals. During a fun jeep ride around the park, the guide shares fascinating information about lions, rhinoceroses, elephants, buffalo, and more, pointing out distinctive characteristics and information about each animal's body and how those qualities make the animals special. The teacher helps the children reflect on their own body image and how they were created uniquely in God's image. A part of the God Made Me series, God Made Me in His Image invites young children to ponder the doctrine of creation, learning how God made them in his image and how truth influences the ways they think and feel about their bodies. This powerful, colorful book addresses the topic of body image from a Christian perspective, to help children understand their feelings, provide information about the topic, and offer extensive, practical strategies to parents. Letters and notes to parents or caregivers are included in the back of the book to help facilitate discussion.

In His Image and Likeness Oct 05 2022 In this ground-breaking book, Zapalac brings together the methods of social, intellectual, and art history in showing how the Protestant Reformation altered the terms of political discourse in a German free imperial city. In Zapalac's view, visual and verbal images, many of them having their origins in conceptions of the sacred, were more central to sixteenth-century political thought within the city walls than was the rationalized language of law. Drawing on a wealth of sources, she traces the impact of religious change on the languages of judgment and authority used in the city of Regensburg, and thereby sheds light on the nature of political thought in early modern Germany.

God Created Man in His Image and Likeness Mar 30 2022

Everyone who reads the Bible must admit that it tells us to do things that we never have done and cannot do in our fleshly bodies. One reason is that God our Creator is telling us what He wants us to be and do as created in His image and likeness. Our purpose is in our image and likeness of God our Creator, not like the dust of the ground or the flesh of our parents. Most children don't know that they are created in the image and likeness of God, and their parents have not asked God for His spirit for their children so they can be taught this vital truth. The reason parents don't ask God for His spirit for their children is because they don't recognize the need for Him. There are several things mankind cannot do in the flesh, and they must recognize their origin in the image and likeness of God. Mankind must recognize being in the image and likeness of God to, first, love God with all their being and love his neighbors as himself; second, to obey God and his parents as required in God's word; third, to trust God with all his heart; fourth, to worship God in spirit and in truth; and fifth, to glorify God in his body and spirit, which are God. The devil does not want mankind to know that he is created in the image and likeness of God because man will always defeat Satan and fulfill God's will.

In His Image Jun 01 2022 In man's quest to seek fulfillment, he acquires many "things" and a host of "stuff". Society has taught him that "things" define who and what he is. The more things he comes to have, the more important he feels. But after acquiring all of his things, he finds himself still unfulfilled. Dr. Simmons asserts in IN HIS IMAGE that man's longing is a desire to re-establish a relationship with his creator. He proves, through scripture, that man was created to be just as his creator. IN HIS IMAGE shows us how to walk like God, talk like God, EXPECT like God because we are, in fact, God's spirit encapsulated in flesh. Dr. Simmons does a fine job in, IN HIS IMAGE, showing us how to recapture our God self.

Not in His Image Sep 04 2022 Not in His Image describes the rich spiritual world of pre-Christian classical Europe: the Pagan Mysteries, the Great Goddess, Gnosis, the myths of Sophia and Gaia and its future as a force for rebalancing our lives and reconnecting to the earth. In his riveting account of who the Gnostics really were and what they were protesting against, John Lash identifies who we once were, and what has become of our original genius. He describes the decisive arc of history from the dawn of the Christian Era to the present moment of global terror, a trajectory driven by faith-based violence and fundamentalist politics. No scholar has yet plumbed the depths of the Nag Hammadi Library for the profound cosmological myth of our origins and our intimate bond with Gaia, the living planet.

Created In His Image Feb 26 2022 Why do we have children? The answer(s) may seem obvious, but have we ever really sat down and thought about the reasons we have children? Our answers reveal that we don't generally see how important or valuable children are to us as individuals and families or, more importantly, to God who creates every child for a purpose. Before I formed you in the womb I knew you; Before you were born I sanctified you; I ordained you a prophet to the nations. (Jeremiah 1: 5) For You formed my inward parts; You covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise You, for I am fearfully [and] wonderfully made; Marvelous are Your works, And [that] my soul knows very well. My frame was not hidden from You, When I was made in secret, [And] skillfully wrought in the lowest parts of the earth. Your eyes saw my substance, being yet unformed. And in Your book they all were written, The days fashioned for me, When [as yet there were] none of them. (Psalm 139: 13-16). Our perception of children determines how we treat our children. World wide, stories abound of child trafficking, child abuse in various forms, children in areas of armed conflict, child labour, and so on, but what about children closer to home—our own children, our nieces and nephews, children of our friends and neighbours? Where ever or whoever we are, we interact with children so whilst this book is primarily for parents, it is for every adult who comes in to contact with children whether at home, work, school, or place of worship. As a mother, I see parenting or looking after children as an honour and privilege and, whilst not easy, being a parent is one of the greatest blessings God has given us. If we look at parenthood through God's eyes, we will see that we have the greatest opportunity to serve Him and establish His will and purposes on this earth. The lives of our children are more precious in God's sight than we can ever imagine. Throughout this book, I want to challenge us all to re-examine our views, attitudes and behaviour towards our children. We may give ourselves a pass mark but does what we see today in the lives of our children reflect God's heart or are we ourselves truly happy with what we see in the lives of our children?

The Living Image Feb 14 2021 Have you ever questioned whether your faith and your worldview were biblically connected? Whether you have or haven't, now is the time to give your worldview examination. In this insightful book, A.M. LaMouria challenges readers to explore whether they are operating from a perspective that God's story in Scripture is man-centered salvation or God-centered glory. The consequences of how one identifies the purpose of their life and how to find the will of God for living their specific life may surprise you. Readers will learn what Scripture has to say about life's purpose and how this foundational worldview affects every facet of life, from relationships to career choices to finding a place in the Body of Christ. LaMouria teaches what it means to be an 'Image Bearer,' finding fulfillment in doing everything for God's glory as His earthly steward. Find meaning and guidance in the right place, Scripture, and discover how to apply it to become The Living Image, because God Purposed You to Bear His Image and Know His Will.

The Real Royal Family Aug 11 2020 God made human beings in his image and that is what makes us so valuable. Yet there are vastly different ideas of what the image means and how sin affects the image, and each of those ideas impacts the claim that the image grounds human value. People have treated one another in either horrible or wonderful ways based on their theologies of the image. This book examines the logical implications of various image doctrines in the real world. Also, in Genesis 1:26-27, the image of God is closely tied to the first stated purposes of human life in Genesis 1:28. Yet such practical purposes seem remote from the private spirituality of the gospel story often heard in churches. To live out our part in God's creation project, we need to understand the image of God within the unfolding story Scripture narrates from creation to new creation. This book builds a theology of the image of God by situating it firmly in the biblical narrative, harnessing the insights of biblical theology, and conversing with theologians past and present to form a coherent story of God, his children, and his creation in this age and the age to come.

This is so important, since it has been proven that what or who you imagine yourself to be determines your fate in life. Your self-image can carry you to heights of success or plunge you into the depths of defeat and despair.

Killing Us Softly Jun 28 2019 The Christian life is actually a kind of death. We die to ourselves, take up our cross, and follow Jesus. Dying in Christ, however, is an opportunity—to experience the comforting presence of the Holy Spirit as we spread the Good News of a God who loves us enough to save us and remake us in his image. Efreem Smith helps us see that Christian discipleship is a counterintuitive life. In a world turned upside down by sin, God carefully and lovingly strips us of worldly values and turns us right-side up as good citizens and ambassadors of his Kingdom.

Made in His Image Nov 01 2019 Made in HIS Image is a book of inspirational writings that speak to the process and various phases of life. In between birth and death is life's journey. We all have purpose and destiny over our lives whether we realize it or not. Regardless to the occupation or vocation we pursue, we are tested and tried. We all have successes, failures, joys, sorrows, peaks, valleys and many questions regarding the perplexities of life. The obstacles that hinder our destiny often frustrate us. God uses our life's experiences to equip us to fulfill our destiny. The storms of life come to try to destroy us if we buckle under the circumstances or they will build us up if we are determined to stand. In this book Rebecca share some of the phases she and others have experienced while being Made in HIS Image. Her prayer is, as you follow along the different stages in this book, you will see in your own lives that God is ever present to meet you where you are, to help, guide, heal and bring you out victoriously, as you go through the process of being Made In HIS Image. Remember, Jesus knows what is the perfect will of God for our lives. He is also able to perform what He has promised (Romans 4:21). Her book Made in His Image is a reflection of life from Rebecca's experiences that also communicate the human experience touched by the master-teacher Jehovah- Shammah "The Ever Present One." The many phases of life are reflected on these pages, but not without sensing that regardless of what we go through there is a lesson that God wants to teach us because we are

Let Us Create God in Our Own Image Sep 11 2020 The author addresses sensitive issues emerging from changing Christianity's messages to the world and the resulting influence, not only to Christianity itself, but to western world governments. He maintains that Governments and Christianity have both fallen prey to political manipulation of man's sensitive ego; and the only reason that has happened is because official Institutional Christianity now "coddles" ego to enlarge its membership. He concludes that gaining control of personal "ego" is the primary biblical message to living out Christian standards and traces the decline in western culture and the dismantling of free societies to the abandonment of traditional Christianity.

In His Own Image and Likeness Feb 03 2020 This book argues that, within the Priestly tradition, human creation marks the replacement of God's divine community, signifying the moment when God takes control over that community, separates himself, and institutes monotheism.

Not in His Image (15th Anniversary Edition) Dec 27 2021 "Lash is capable of explaining the mind-bending concepts of Gnosticism and pagan mystery cults with bracing clarity and startling insight. . . . [His] arguments are often lively and entertaining."—Los Angeles Times Fully revised and with a new preface by the author, this timely update is perfect for readers of The Immortality Key. Since its initial release to wide acclaim in 2006, Not in His Image has transformed the lives of readers around the world by presenting the living presence of the Wisdom Goddess as never before revealed, illustrating that the truth of an impactful Gnostic message cannot be hidden or destroyed. With clarity, author John Lamb Lash explains how a little-known messianic sect propelled itself into a dominant world power, systematically wiping out the great Gnostic spiritual teachers, the Druid priests, and the shamanistic healers of Europe and North Africa. Early Christians burned libraries and destroyed temples in an attempt to silence the ancient truth-tellers and keep their own secrets. Not in His Image delves deeply into ancient Gnostic writings to reconstruct the story early Christians tried to scrub from the pages of history, exploring the richness of the ancient European Pagan spirituality—the Pagan Mysteries, the Great Goddess, Gnosis, the myths of Sophia and Gaia. In the 15th Anniversary Edition, Lash doubles down on his original argument against redemptive ideology and authoritarian deceit. He shows how the Gnostics clearly foresaw the current program of salvation by syringe, and places the Sophianic vision of life centrally in the battle to expose and oppose the evil agenda of transhumanism, making this well-timed update more relevant than ever. "Sometimes a book changes the world. Not in His Image is such a book. It is clear, stimulating, well-researched, and sure to outrage the experts. . . . Get it. Improve not just your own life, but civilization's chances for survival."—Roger Payne, author of Among Whales

God and His Image Aug 23 2021 Fr. Barthelemy was an internationally recognized expert on Old Testament studies, and a member of the Pontifical Biblical Commission. In this work he dispenses with the technical language of exegesis and linguistics, and speaks theologically as a priest, a teacher, a believer. This work is an introduction to the spiritual teaching of the Old Testament, and can greatly help believers to hear that renewing and rejuvenating Word of God with deepened understanding. This is a book about God and man. It is also about the long history of God's search for man and the difficulty man had in keeping intact the divine image in which he was created. The purpose of this book is to present what God says about Himself and about His image (man) in the inspired texts of Scripture. This powerful work by an acclaimed Biblical and spiritual writer can enkindle the heart and enlighten the mind of modern man to see who we truly are in God's eyes, and help us to understand the full extent of our deep need for God to become his faithful followers and images once again.

Made in His Image Jul 10 2020 The abortion debate often provokes strong reactions on both sides of the argument. Past exploring the hard facts of abortion, we need to address what the Bible teaches us on what it means to be human. Dr Mullen does this, taking information from both a biblical and scientific perspective, and presenting it conscientiously. The abortion debate raises sensitive issues, and often provokes strong reactions on both sides of the argument. This short book addresses these issues in a holistic and Bible-based manner, by exploring more than just the hard facts of abortion. We are reminded of the Bible's teaching on what it means to be human, and of the high value that God places on every individual, including the unborn child, the teenage mum, and those who have had abortions. The question of when human life begins is explored from both a biblical and a scientific perspective. Finally, the real heartache, distress and fear that many women and couples face is considered, and we are encouraged in ways that we can genuinely support them and their children. "Some may say that abortion is a woman's issue, and that, as a man, I should not speak about it. But, as a Christian, I believe God has spoken about it, and His voice must be heard. We must be willing to submit to His truth, knowing that He is good, and His ways are best." (Dr Philip Mullan).

(Luke 6:40) What does it mean to be a follower of Jesus? The ultimate goal of discipleship is to be like the Teacher—to be like Jesus Himself. Every Christian wants to understand what that means. But even if we understand it, is it possible? Michael Wilkins asserts that it's not only possible, it's a life that all Christians are called to—not just a select few. So why do we so seldom experience it? As Wilkins points out, even the first followers of Jesus had a hard time grasping what it meant to be His disciples. Like them, our difficulty often lies in not clearly understanding who Jesus is, not recognizing the resources available to us as God's children, or not believing who we are to be as Christ's followers. But like the early disciples, our lives can radically change. If we want to follow Jesus, we can become like Him. "Jesus takes us exactly as He finds us," writes Wilkins, "and transforms us into His likeness." So come, learn what it means to walk with Jesus and reflect His image to the real world.

Impeccable Mar 18 2021 We all tend to pose these questions to ourselves from time to time; "Who am I"? "What is my purpose"? "Why am I here"? While we may not readily have definite answers, the ability to start somewhere and figuring it out begins with knowing who we are made in the image of. Just like a relative can gaze at you and say "You look just like your father/mother" there are traits and abilities in you that are also in Jesus Christ granted to you by God. He said "Let us make man in our image and our likeness". (Genesis 1:26) Impeccable by definition is the appearance, behavior and performance of something, and because God is impeccable (it does not mean you are perfect) but that He made you impeccable too. You have been endowed with the ability to appear, behave and perform in such a way that only you can. No one else is made like you, even though we are all fashioned in the same image and likeness.

Salt, Light, and a City, Second Edition Jul 30 2019 Jesus is calling his church to be a multiethnic and missional people who listen and learn from the many voices of world Christianity. Graham Joseph Hill issues a moving call for churches to be missional by being conformed to the image of Jesus Christ. Hill does this by exploring the thinking of twenty-five Asian, African, Latin American, Indigenous, African American, diaspora, Caribbean, Oceanian, Eastern European, and Middle Eastern pastors and theologians. These are as diverse as Melba Padilla Maggay, Emmanuel Katongole, Lamin Sanneh, Oscar Muriu, Ruth Padilla DeBorst, Pope Francis, Richard Twiss, Lisa Sharon Harper, Willie James Jennings, Ada María Isasi-Díaz, Soong-Chan Rah, and Mitri Raheb. These voices show us the future of missional churches in world Christianity. When churches are conformed to Christ they make disciples, heal a broken world, and witness to Jesus and his gospel. Jesus forms us in his image and moves us to be a people of shalom, humility, character, justice, peace, wisdom, prayer, beauty, and witness. The church has had a Reformation but now it needs a Conformation. Hill explores biblical themes and the voices of world Christianity to show that a missional church is conformed to the image of the incarnate, crucified, resurrected, and glorified Christ. Conformity to Christ is the heart of missional ecclesiology and discipleship.

Knowing and Living Your True Identity Aug 30 2019 It is very important that man knows his true identity. Knowing your true identity will determine your destiny. Knowing your true identity gives you the courage to walk into it. When we know our identity, we will be able and ready to find and fulfill purpose. If we don't know what our true identity is, then we cannot start living a life that is consistent with our true nature and values and we will only frustrate ourselves rather than be able to live in harmony with our identity and be able to live up to our true potential. The way you see your life shapes your life. How you define life determines your destiny. Your perspective will influence how you invest your time, spend your money, use your talents, and value your relationships. One of the best ways to understand other people is to ask them, "How do you see your life?" You will discover that there are as many answers to that question as there are people. It's the view of life that you hold, consciously or unconsciously, in your mind. It's your description of how life works and what you expect from it. What's behind this struggle of identity? It comes down to worldview. Because we are made in the image of God, God is the fixed reference point on which our design, purpose, and value are established. If we want to know who we are, we must start by looking up (at Him), not around (at others) or within (at ourselves). We, Christians believe the Bible record that God created Man. Bible records that he was an ordinary dust before God breath into him "the Breath of Life", and he became a living soul. Therefore, the true identity of man starts from the fact that he was made in the "image of God", and that he became a living soul. God created the man to be like Him. God created man to be in His likeness. We want to know God to know who we truly are. To know our true identity, man needs to know God to discover his true identity. When the man knows himself, he will be able to know who he is. He will know his nature, strength and weaknesses. He will know how to function. He would know what he can do, and his weaknesses. The journey with God begins with knowing yourself. Without it you cannot understand God. Without it, you cannot know God or know how to worship Him acceptably. Without it, you cannot even understand the Bible. A lot of confusion that we witness these days in Christianity is because of not knowing ourselves. You cannot understand how to relate with God if you don't know yourself. Unfortunately, there are few or no relevant books on knowing yourself. Most of the books I came across when I wanted to know why most people do not know themselves, I found that they missed the truth completely. In fact, they created more confusion. The original true identity of man was given to him in the garden at Eden. God created him in His image. His identity is primarily determined by the image of God that he was made to be. To fully know the original true identity of man, we have to know the image of God that man became. It is clear that the original man, Adam, was not exactly God, therefore we have to know the details of the image of God that man was made of. So, what does it mean that man was made in the image of God? What is it that God breathed in man? What exactly did God breathe into him that is called the breath of Life? What does it mean that man became a living soul? What does "Living Soul" mean? What make up a living soul? Why did God decide to make man in His image? And of what use is it to man that he was made in the image of God?
