Film Essays and Criticism Aug 10 2020 This collection of essays by Rudolph Arnheim (film criticism, U. of Michigan) explores film theory, criticism, and many classic films from the silent and early sound period (the 1920s and early 1930s). The majority of essays included in this collection were written and published in Berlin during the Weimar Republic, and have been translated into English for the first time. As movies became more realistic looking due to technical advances, cinema began to lose its integrity and viability. Paper edition (unseen), $18.95. A Rhetoric of Doing Sep 30 2019 Concerned with both the nature and the practice of discourse, the eighteen essays collected here treat rhetoric as a dynamic enterprise of inquiry, exploration, and application, and in doing so reflect James L. Kinneavy's firm belief in the vital relationship between theory and practice, his commitment to a spirit of accommodation and assimilation that promotes the development of ever more powerful theories and ever more useful practices. A thorough introduction provides the reader with clear summaries of the essays by leading-edge theorists, researchers, and teachers of writing and rhetoric. A "field context" for the ideas presented in this book is provided through the division of the various chapters into four major sections that focus on classical rhetoric and rhetorical theory in historical contexts; on dimensions of discourse theory, aspects of discourse communities, and the sorts of knowledge people access and use in producing written texts; on writing in school-related contexts; and on several dimensions of nonacademic writing. A fifth section contains a bibliographic survey and an appreciation of James Kinneavy's work. The exceptional range of these essays makes A Rhetoric of Doing an ecumenical examination of the current state of mind in rhetoric and written communication, a survey and description of what discourse and those in the field of discourse are, in fact, doing.

Die Fahrt zum Leuchtturm Dec 02 2019 »Die Fahrt zum Leuchtturm« ist ein Roman von Virginia Woolf. Die mehrstimmige Geschichte handelt von der Ramsay-Familie und ihren Besuchen auf der schottischen Isle of Skye zwischen 1910 und 1920. Der Roman gehört zur modernen Literatur und wurde 2015 von mehreren internationalen Literaturkritikern zu einem der bedeutendsten Werke der britischen Welt gewählt. Unlösbare Fragen waren das, so schien es ihr, als sie da am Fenster stand, James an der Hand haltend. Auch er war ihr ins Wohnzimmer gefolgt, der junge Mann, über den sie lachten; er stand am Tisch, fingerte an irgendwas herum, zappelig, linkisch und fühlte sich von allem ausgeschlossen; ohne sich nach ihm umzuwenden, wusste sie das. Alle waren sie gegangen – die Kinder; Minta Doyle und Paul Rayley; Augustus Carmichael; ihr Mann – alle waren sie gegangen. So wandte sie sich denn mit einem Seufzer um und sagte: »Wollen Sie mit mir kommen, Mr. Tansley, oder ist Ihnen das zu langweilig?« Null Papier Verlag

The Oxford Book of American Essays Apr 05 2020 This essay appeared originally in the Atlantic Monthly for May, 1883. During the thirty years which have elapsed since it was written the manifestations of the colonial spirit then apparent in the United States have not only altered in character but, I am glad to say, have weakened, diminished, and become less noticeable. Since 1883, also, there has been much achieved by Americans in Art and Literature, in painting, in sculpture, in music, and particularly in architecture. Success in all these fields has, with few exceptions, been won by men working in the spirit which is not colonial, but which it was the purpose of this essay to inculcate as the true one to which alone we could look for fine and enduring achievement. I have called attention to the date at which the essay was written in order that those who read it may remember that it applies in certain points to the conditions of thirty years ago and not to those of the present day.

Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing Nov 12 2020 This book takes on a daunting task: How do writing teachers continue to work toward preparing students for academic and real-world communication situations, while faced with the increasing use of standardized high-stakes testing? Teachers need both the technical ability to deal with this reality and the ideological means to critique the information technologies and assessment methods that are transforming the writing classroom. Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing serves this dual need by offering a theoretical framework, actual case studies, and practical methods for evaluating student writing. By examining issues in writing assessment--ranging from the development of electronic portfolios to the impact of state-wide, standards-based assessment methods on secondary and post-secondary courses--this book discovers four situated techniques of authentic assessment that are already in use at a number of locales throughout the United States. These techniques stress: *interacting with students as communicators using synchronous and asynchronous environments; *describing the processes and products of student learning rather than enumerating deficits; *situating pedagogy and evaluation within systems that incorporate rather than exclude local variables; and *distributing assessment among diverse audiences. By advocating for a flexible system of communication-based assessment in computer-mediated writing instruction, this book validates teachers' and students' experiences with writing and also acknowledges the real-world weight of the new writing components on the SAT and ACT, as well as on state-mandated standardized writing and proficiency exams.
