The Island of Legends Past
Mar 09 2020
The second Book in the Island Series, The Island of Legends Past follows where The Island of Time left off. When a stranger appears out of thin air, the locals search for an explanation for his sudden appearance. Having no memory of how he arrived in this new land, the stranger would seek answers for himself, with or without the help of the locals. In a very distant time, an investigation is under way as Dawn Flinders and the Time Crew search for answers to the disappearance of Dawn's husband, Taran, who vanished in an explosion that occurred during a routine test gone bad. Suspecting foul play, the Time Crew works with Dawn and the Sundaees to discover even more secrets behind the island's origins. The adventure continues as the inhabitants of Zion seek to normalize their lives in a time-twisted community, and the people of Yd'veldi seek to fulfill past prophecy. Discover the forgotten history on the Island of Legends Past

New Voyages to Carolina 01 2019 New Voyages to Carolina offers a bold new approach for understanding and telling North Carolina's history. Recognizing the need for such a fresh approach and reflecting a generation of research scholarship, eighteen distinguished authors have sculpted a broad, inclusive narrative of the state's evolution over more than four centuries. The volume provides new lenses and provocative possibilities for reimagining the state's past. Transcending traditional markers of wars and elections, the contributors map out a new chronology encompassing geological realities; the unappreciated presence of Indians, blacks, and women; religious and cultural influences; and abiding preferences for industrial development within the limits of "progressive" politics. While challenging traditional story lines, the authors frame a candid tale of the state's development. Contributors: Doris V. Ames, East Carolina University Karl E. Campbell, Appalachian State University James C. Cobb, University of Georgia Peter A. Coclanis, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Stephen Feeley, McDaniel College Jerry Gershenhorn, North Carolina Central University Glenda Elizabeth Gilmore, Yale University Patrick Huber, Missouri University of Science and Technology Charles F. School nutrition education programmes in the Pacific Islands: Scoping review and capacity needs assessment 2020 The School Nutrition Education Programme (SNEP) is an intervention to educate school students on nutrition and food preparation with the aim of influencing healthy nutrition choice and practice at an age when life time behaviour habits are developing and in the wider community. FAO defines School Food Nutrition Education as consisting of coherent educational strategies and learning activities, with environmental supports, which help schoolchildren and their communities to achieve sustainable improvements in their diets and in food- and lifestyle-related behaviours, perceptions, skills and knowledge; and to build the capacity to change, to adapt to external conditions and to act as agents of change. This publication is the scopy study and capacity needs assessment and final report of the SNEP project.
